Struggling to figure out how to water, manage weeds, control pests, and maintain your garden? Take advantage of our state-of-the-art irrigation system and book a shopping appointment to view our wide selection of herbs, indoor plants, specialty plants, and unique gifts.

Moisture in the air and soil is crucial for plant growth and health. Fortunately, we have a state-of-the-art irrigation system in the Botanical Garden (or any garden, for that matter). The predominance of green at this time of year is not just aesthetically pleasing, but also significant in maintaining the moisture balance in the environment.

During these uncertain times, love prevails. That is why UBC Botanical Garden is committed to providing a safe, affordable, and beautiful wedding experience for you this season. This fall, we will focus on intimate ceremonies and upholding social distancing practices while maintaining all of the usual splendour of a wedding at the Garden.

Same-Season Weddings

If you are in need of a wedding venue that is currently open for business, but are unable to make arrangements for a wedding in another location, we are also offering same-season weddings at the Garden. We will be offering a variety of wedding packages, including small weddings and elopements, to accommodate your needs.

UBC Botanical Garden in full summer bloom.

Egan Davis takes us through some tips for transitioning your garden during the summer? Join us for this free virtual session.

Garden Wedding Packages Now Available

The first session is on August 2020 in the Garden, where visitors tend to linger when the weather is hot, the vegetation is at its peak, and the air is filled with the sweet fragrance of blooming flowers. It is a perfect place to celebrate the beauty of nature and unite with others from near and far.

Register here for the first session.

Register for Designing Sustainable Cities: World's Gardens in Full Bloom, an online event where you can learn more about the similarities of the various gardens around the world.

Stay tuned for more details.

Dr. Tara Moreau of UBC has been awarded with the 2020 American Public Gardens Association (APGA) Professional Citation. The Professional Citation recognizes the significant contributions of individuals in the field of public gardens and horticulture.

Congratulations, Tara!